Hi Mike,

I can confirm our company has no association with Graebel Quality Movers, LLC's HHG Movers permit, so my initial correspondence is still accurate in that we have no involvement with this issue.

I appreciate you allowing us some time to confirm before making any decisions.

Let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks Seth, I see that Van Lines has ceased operations. Just so I'm 100 percent clear, the Graebel that you are associated with, is not doing household goods in Washington state right? Apparently the commercial insurance policy associated to the moving permit is still active, so it seems to me that someone might still be using it.

Thanks again, we just need to get all of our ducks in a row here before we cancel out the permit.

Mike
