To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter to support the business of JJ Moving and Storage. This company has proven to show professionalism and care throughout their time operating and would be a great asset to the moving industry. JJ Moving and Storage takes the time to hire and train quality help, provides great support and communication, and shows that they can be trusted and relied upon in an industry that is often wavering. I look forward to seeing JJ Moving and Storage grow as a successful company and provide quality moving services to their customers and our community.

Thank you for your consideration,

To Whom This May Concern,

I am writing to Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission with great pleasure to recommend JJ Moving Services as a candidate for a license to provide their services to the state of Washington. Over the past two years, I have worked closely with both Jamel Mokrani and Joseph Weaver. During this time, both candidates have proven to be reliable and dedicated as I have witnessed the immense growth undergone within their company over the past year.

While JJ Moving Services is still in its development phase, Mr. Mokrani and Mr. Weaver have been able to successfully navigate through any unpredictable circumstances that would prove to be challenging for most. In doing so, they were able to maintain trust with each customer and provide an exemplary service without fail. With Mr. Mokrani's experience in the moving industry and Mr. Weaver's technical expertise obtained through his time in the civil engineering industry, JJ moving services contain various strengths that will help them succeed as the company develops.

While also focusing on providing excellent service, I believe that JJ Moving Services will be able to build relationships with each customer along the way, making each move a more than satisfactory experience. After having been coworkers with Mr. Mokrani and Mr. Weaver, I am fortunate to consider the two of them as great friends of mine. They have proven to be genuine and kind, which goes a long way in any industry. I hope that JJ Moving Services will be granted this license to work locally throughout the state of Washington. Please feel free to reach out to me at (845) 521-5292 or through my email, james.v.russ97@gmail.com.

Sincerely,

James Russo

REGARDING JJ MOVING & STORAGE APPLICATION

To whom it may concern,

I would love for there to be more reliable and available local moving services in the area. Especially during these uncertain times it is nice to know that if you are in a tough situation there are services readily available on short notice. Furthermore it is always beneficial to have more small businesses who create jobs for the working class.
