AT&T Consumer Digital Solutions<sup>SM</sup>

Requirements

Trial requirements summary:

- Internet access via cable or DSL using Ethernet connection modem or DSL.
- Install CDS Telephone Adapter via cable/DSL modem.
- Provide periodic feedback.
- Provide a valid credit card number*.

Recommended: Keep your standard phone service for 911 calls.

Take your phone digital and take control.

AT&T Consumer Digital Solutions (CDS) is a personal call management service that combines the phone you're using today with the power of high-speed Internet.

What is CDS?

CDS is a revolutionary digital voice service that gives you unlimited Local and Nationwide calling and lets you control your phone in ways you've never imagined. Just plug your phone into a CDS Telephone Adapter, plug the adapter into your broadband Internet connection, and you're in a new world of advanced features. It's that simple!

Help test CDS for FREE*

CDS isn't yet available to the general public. We're beta testing CDS in select areas, and we need your help. If you are selected to be part of our trial we'll ship you a Telephone Adapter at no charge. Simply enjoy the service to make free* unlimited Local and Nationwide calls, use the new features, and provide us with feedback. Should we continue the service, you will be under no obligation to continue CDS service after the beta test period.

Interested?

Learn more or fill out the trial application form now.

LEARN MORE ABOUT CDS

YES, I WANT TO APPLY FOR THE CDS TRIAL

* Note - There is no cost during the beta test trial, through February 29, 2004, for unlimited Local and Nationwide calling, or for the new, advanced features offered by CDS. There is no obligation to purchase the service after February 29, 2004. You may cancel trial participation at any time. Any International calls you make will be billed to you on your credit card at rates substantially lower than basic AT&T residential International rates. All trial participants are required to provide valid credit card information to cover any International calls. AT&T reserves the right to discontinue the trial at any time.

AT&T Consumer Digital Solutions<sup>SM</sup>

What'll AT&T think of next? CDS.

Do you serve your phone or does it serve you? Can you honestly say you have total control over your communications? CDS can make you master of your phone and improve your communications lifestyle. How? Read on.

The digital voice revolution

How CDS works

All new advanced features \(and better old features\)

Access from anywhere

Quality

Local and Nationwide calling at no charge through February 29, 2004, International calls at discounted rates

Emergency Dialing and other important information

The digital voice revolution

Look at the ways digital technology changed photography, recordings, TV, and so on. Now it's the same with the telephone. CDS takes the phone into a new digital realm by combining it with the power of your high-speed Internet service, no matter what service you have.

[\[top\]](#)

How CDS works

CDS connects the phone you now own to your existing high-speed Internet through a Telephone Adapter (TA) that's about the size of an answering machine. You plug your phone into the TA and the TA into your cable or DSL modem. It even works with most home PC networks. That's it. The result? Unprecedented connectedness to your world through revolutionary new features.

CDS uses the phone you have today, but it doesn't use your current phone line. You place and receive phone calls through your standard phone, while taking advantage of exciting new features, all over your existing Internet connection. You don't have to disconnect your old line or service.

All new advanced features (and better old features)

CDS provides familiar features through the phone you have today such as unlimited Local and Nationwide calling, voice mail, call waiting, and caller ID without name. But CDS also gives you a slew of new, advanced features. You interact with a web-based control panel to take advantage of the following:

Personal Conferencing	Set up a "meeting room" with up to ten callers on the same line
Locate Me	Ring other phones that you identify and can change at any time to find you when you're not at your CDS phone
Do No Disturb	Forward calls to voice mail while letting urgent callers ring in
Voice Mail + eFeatures	See and hear messages through your phone or via the web, receive e-mail notification when you have a message, and forward messages as e-mail attachments.
Switch Phones from AT&amp;T [sm]	Switch from your CDS phone to your cell phone (or any other phone) mid-way through a call without losing your connection
Add Callers	Add up to eight callers at any time during a conversation
Phone Feature Manager	Dial-in access to Voice Mail + eFeatures, Locate Me, and Do Not Disturb.
Call Logs	View a web list of incoming and outgoing calls and click to dial - just like on your cell phone
Speed Dial	Use single-digit shortcuts for the calls you dial most - just like on your cell phone
Caller ID	See the caller's phone number before you answer
Call Waiting	Place a call on hold to answer another call

[top]

Access from anywhere

With CDS you have virtually unlimited ways to access your voice features. Wherever there's an Internet connection you can use the CDS web interface, login and use the web-based control panel to interact with and manage your features. While you are on your CDS phone you can press a sequence of keys ("****") to access specific features. Finally, you can dial into the Phone Feature Manager to also access CDS from literally any phone, anywhere.

Quality

You've come to expect high standards in your phone service, and you've come to expect high standards from AT&T. That's why as we move forward into the future we're committed to building a digital network that provides the highest quality digital voice and advanced services.

[top]

Local and Nationwide calling at no charge
International calls at discounted rates

There is no obligation for this trial through February 29, 2004. You may make free unlimited Local or Nationwide calls, and access all CDS advanced features at no charge. Any International calls you make will be billed at extremely competitive rates -- significantly lower than basic AT&T residential International rates.

Emergency Dialing and other important information

At this time this trial does not support 911 Emergency Dialing. Additionally, in case of a power or broadband Internet outage, you will temporarily be without the use of the phone connected to your CDS service. We strongly recommend that you maintain a separate local landline phone in your home for use in emergency situations. AT&T reserves the right to discontinue the trial at any time.

Five Star Telecom is a provider of Voice Over Internet Protocol (VoIP) products and services. Five Star Telecom's earthphone™ VoIP platform offers a family of products and services which allow users the ability to make telephone calls to anyone else on the planet with voice quality equal to or superior than the public telephone system.

The toll avoidance abilities of earthphones are significant. From any Internet connection globally, consumers are able to use their earthphone to call any other earthphone™ totally free. Business applications include free calling between offices, free calling between sales persons, and the ability to access a local line from office locations globally.

Further, the earthphone communication platform resolves the legacy approach of dialing an IP address by implementing dynamic nine-digit dialing scheme that works across the globe. The earthphone's unique telephone number is completely portable, and follows each individual for life, when traveling or moving. No matter where the user obtains an internet connection the nine-digit number associated with that unit will be able to send and receive calls.

IPT For a Handful of Dollars

Market research continues to show uncertainty about the market for IP Telephony. From a survey of one hundred respondents, 40% saw no real need for IPT, 28% said it was too expensive.

Let's now imagine the entry-level solution that bypasses the fancy toll bypass. No argument at the moment, but no need for a second switching system.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

A New Communications Paradigm: earthphone™ From Five Star Telecom

earthphone™

SAN FRANCISCO/ EWORLDWIRE /March 18, 2003 --- Today Five Star Telecom took the wraps off its 'earthphone™' Internet Telephony solution, so named because the use of 9-digit phone numbers allows these devices to be used anywhere in the world to both make and receive calls. The ability to receive calls from any location is thought to be unique, as is the ability to deliver crystal clear reception over dialup.

Earthphones™ not only enable free, high fidelity telephony over the Internet, but also offer 'anytime, almost anywhere' functionality. 'Almost' indicates the need for an Internet connection, which is rapidly become semi-ubiquitous via the rapid installation of Wi-Fi hot spots. If Wi-Fi access is free then so are the calls. Thus, the new communication paradigm is a combination of totally free telephony over the Net (the early promise of Internet telephony) with similar reachability to that of cellular (no location dependency).

In addition, earthphones™ work over dial-up connections, can pass through corporate firewalls, and connect to PBXs. The latter feature is enabled when one or more earthphones™ are connected to the trunk lines. This allows mobile workers to talk to colleagues and interconnect offices and conference rooms, again calls are free; they can also break out to the public network and make calls at local or national rates. In the US the term Lata (Local Access and Transport Area) is used to describe the geographic area handled by the local phone company. Outside that area toll charges begin; calls made inside the Lata are not metered. Since earthphone enables a de facto global Lata the company has registered the name Global Local Lata™.

Sy Richardson, President and founder: "Earthphones™ have a unique 9-digit code. To call another party, once you launch the application, you simply pick up the phone — dial tone is established immediately — and dial nine digits. Nothing could be simpler; you use regular phones the same way but now the calls are free. There is no service charge, no need to enter IDs and account numbers."

Earthphones™ are small hardware boxes that weigh in at a mere 3oz/84g and as illustrated, they connect to a USB port on the PC, and are used with regular analog phones. Both attachments are powered via the USB port.

The PC powers the hardware earthphone™ box and phone. Boxes also connect to the PBX, enabling mobile workers to connect to the PSTN. The same phone can also be employed for regular telephony.

Hearing is believing

Bill Brady, Director of Business Development: "Historically Internet Telephony has been associated with poor quality and even loss of signal. This is no longer the case; the technologies employed by earthphones™ result in call quality as good as that of the public network and that is far superior to cellular. It has to be heard to be believed.”

Visitors to the site (www.fivestartel.com) can watch and listen to a video and also by listening to recordings made to and from Australia, California, India, Israel, the Netherlands and Pakistan.

8x8 Announces New Service Offerings for Small Business with Packet8 IP Telephone Service

CHICAGO, Illinois (June 9, 2003) - 8x8, Inc. (Nasdaq: EGHT) today announced the addition of two flat-rate domestic PSTN calling plans to its Packet8 voice and video service for the small office/home office market at the National Cable and Telecommunications Association (NCTA) 2003 National Show.

The two new plans, Business Basic and Business Complete, include the same advanced Packet8 features that are offered with the residential service, such as personalized voice mail and call forwarding, but are bundled with more PSTN minutes, lower per minute rates, and additional multiple endpoint support.

The Business Basic plan includes 4,000 PSTN minutes (U.S. and Canada) for $59.95 per month with additional minutes at $.04 per minute.

The Business Complete plan includes 10,000 PSTN minutes (U.S. and Canada) for $129.95 per month with additional minutes at $.04 per minute. The Business Complete plan allows users to have multiple endpoints on a single account, regardless of their geographic location.

"We have had a number of requests from small business owners to develop an offering that is tailored to their telephone usage patterns," said Daniel Missbrenner, vice president of sales at 8x8. "With over 4 million small businesses in the United States and the increasing prevalence of broadband access at those businesses, we believe that Packet8's business plans are the right answer for enabling affordable and flexible business communications over a company's internet connection."

Launched in November 2002, Packet8 enables anyone with high-speed internet access to sign up for telephone service at <http://www.packet8.net>. Customers can choose a direct-dial phone number from any of the over 1,500 rate centers offered by the service, and then use an 8x8-supplied telephony adapter (the 8x8 Desktop Telephone Adapter model DTA310 manufactured by 8x8 and included with the service) to interface any regular telephone to the customer's internet connection. Calls can then be made and received from the telephone connected to the DTA310 anywhere in the world where the adapter is installed. All Packet8 telephone accounts come with voice mail, caller ID, call forwarding, web access to account controls, and real-time online billing. Packet8 service can also be ordered with a broadband videophone, the DV325, which enables high-speed, instant-on direct dial video calls over the Packet8 network anywhere in the world. Packet8's voice and video solutions are being demonstrated this week in booth #1352 at the NCTA National Show in Chicago, Illinois.

Understanding Packet8 Calling Rates

Forget local and long distance. With Packet8, all of your calls within the United States (including Hawaii and Alaska) and Canada are treated the same. Plus, any calls you make to other Packet8 subscribers are always free!

What is PSTN?

PSTN stands for Public Switched Telephone Network. This is the traditional analog phone network that the "phone company" owns and operates. Often referred to as Ma Bell.

Call Types

1. Packet8 to Packet8 - These are calls you make to other subscribers. These are sometimes referred to as "on-net calls". On-net calls are free and unlimited for ALL Packet8 subscribers, regardless of the service plan you choose. These calls are found in your on-line call history as: Call Type, IP.
2. Packet8 to PSTN - Packet8 not only offers free calls within the Packet8 network, but also allows subscribers to call phones on the PSTN, sometimes called "off-net" calls. These off-net calls are metered in minutes. The number of minutes you have included with your plan vary, depending on the plan you choose. The calling area these included minutes is: Continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Canada. If you use more minutes than you have in your plan, you will be charged at a per minute rate based on your service plan. For example; a subscriber that has used the allotted minutes in their plan for that month, will be charged at a per minute rate as set forth in your current plan for any further minutes used that month. These off-net calls are found in your on-line call history as: Call Type, PSTN, out (for outbound)
3. PSTN to Packet8 - Another great feature that sets Packet8 apart from other discounted long distance calling cards or internet based calling services is that with Packet8, you get a REAL telephone number that others can use to call you. Wherever you take your Packet8 account, your phone number will be the same. Just like a cellphone, these calls are metered and count against the total minutes in your service plan. For minutes used beyond the minutes in your plan, you will be charged on a per minute rate set by your service plan. These calls are found in your on-line call history as:
Call type, PSTN, in (for inbound)
4. Packet8 to International - International rates vary from region to region and periodically, the rates change. Packet8 is constantly negotiating the best rates possible and pass the savings on to our users. Only outbound calls are charged at the international rate. Calls to your Packet8 phone number from outside of the United States will be treated as #3, above- PSTN inbound. Your international outbound calls are found in your on-line call history as:
Call type, PSTN-int

Area Codes and Rate Centers

Packet8 allows you to choose a phone number from any of the available rate centers, regardless of where your Packet8 phone will be physically located.

Packet8 asks you to specify the "rate center" (calling area or city name) that you would like to have assigned to your account. There can be many rate centers within one area code. With Packet8, you can request a rate center that is local to those who call you the most.

Rate center selection does not affect your Packet8 calling rates. When you make calls from your Packet8 account, all calls within the United States and Canada are included with your flat rate Packet8 service. On all of our calling plans, calls between two Packet8 subscribers are always free and unlimited, anywhere in the world.

To see the list of rate centers that Packet8 currently has available, choose a state from the list below.

Remember!

Packet8 is available to you even if we do not have your local area code or rate center. Your Packet8 area code and phone number is only used for inbound calls. If a more desirable rate center later becomes available, Packet8 will assign a new number to your account.
