Below are some of the larger rebates which are available through Air Control Heating & Electric.

Line Excess Allowance Program (LEAP)

Homeowners who live in Washington can convert to natural gas and be eligible to enroll in Avista's Line Excess Allowance Program (LEAP). This program can provide the residential Avista customers with an allowance of up to $4482.00 to help pay for connecting to Avista's natural gas system.

Additionally, if the cost to connect to Avista's system is less than the amount that they allow, the excess remaining may be applied towards the purchase and installation of a new high efficient (90% AFUE or greater) natural gas furnace or boiler, and/or a new natural gas water heater.

This program is available to Avista's electric customers as well as homeowners who are not currently an Avista customer (Washington only, some restrictions may apply).

A few restrictions to note:

- Customer must be in Avista electric & gas service area
- Cannot be an existing gas meter at the house now
- Only approved contractors can offer LEAP incentives (Air Control is approved)
- Not available to new construction
