Website advertisement

RE: Household Goods Moving in Washington State

Dear Justin Higbee:

The Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (commission) has information that you are conducting household goods moves within the state of Washington. Advertisements for your household goods services have been found on yelp.com, facebook.com, and <https://www.jandsmovers.com/>. Conducting or advertising household goods moves requires a permit issued by the commission. You do not have a valid permit, as required by state law, to conduct this type of work.

Until you obtain a permit, you must immediately cease operating as a household goods mover in Washington State. Operating as a household goods mover without the required permit is illegal and subject to a penalty of $5,000 per violation.¹ This means that you may receive this penalty for each day you operate in violation of the law.

You must also immediately cease advertising as a household goods mover in Washington State. Advertising for the transportation of property for compensation in Washington without a proper permit is against the law. The penalty for advertising without a permit is $5,000 per violation. This means that you may receive a penalty for each and every advertisement. At this time, the commission has documented advertisements for household goods moving services from J & S Movers and/or JNS Movers INC.

If you advertise or operate as a household goods mover without a permit, the commission will take enforcement action against you. Such action may include the above-mentioned financial penalties; and you will be served with a subpoena and be required to appear before a judge.

To avoid enforcement action, you must stop operating and advertising as a household goods mover immediately. In addition, by May 11, 2023, you must do one of the following:

- a) Submit completed household goods moving permit application, proof of insurance, supporting materials, and application fee. To request a permit application, please call (360) 664-1222. You may also download an application from the commission's website at www.utc.wa.gov/regulated-industries/transportation/licensing-insurance/permit-applications.

OR

- b) Explain in writing why you believe your operations do not require authority from the commission. Please explain your operations in detail. Direct your written response to Jaquandria Ewanika, Compliance Investigator, at jaquandria.ewanika@utc.wa.gov or to P.O. Box 47250, Olympia, WA 98504.

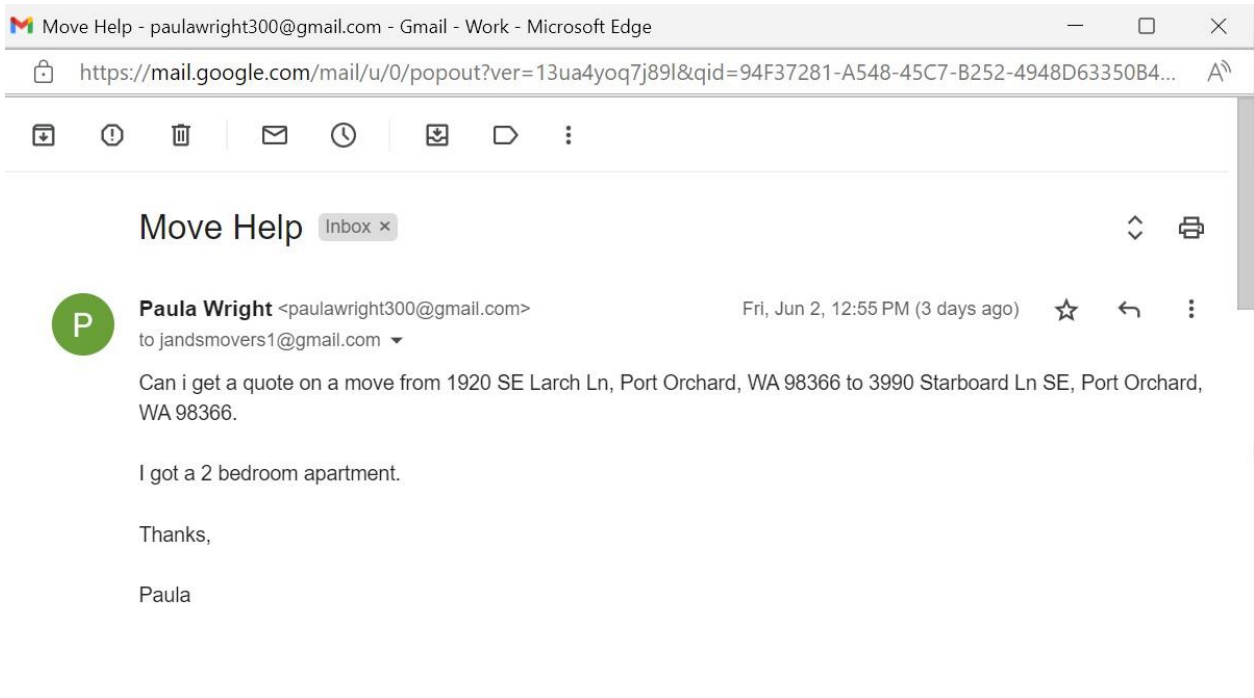

If you have questions about the household goods laws, please contact Jaquandria Ewanika at (360) 664-1320.

Sincerely,

Bridgit Feeser

RE: Household Goods Moving in Washington State

Dear Justin Higbee:

The Utilities and Transportation Commission has information that you are conducting household goods moves within the state of Washington. Advertisements for your household goods services have been found on facebook.com. You do not have a valid permit, as required by state law, to conduct this type of work. Conducting household goods moves requires a permit issued by the commission.

To avoid enforcement action, your complete household goods permit application, supporting materials, and application fee must be submitted to the commission by October 28, 2019.

Until you obtain a permit, you must immediately cease operating as a household goods mover in Washington State. Operating as a household goods mover without the required permit is illegal and subject to a penalty of $5,000 per violation.¹ This means that you may receive this penalty for each day you operate in violation of the law.

If you advertise or operate as a household goods mover without a permit, the commission will take enforcement action against you. Such action may include the above-mentioned financial penalties; and you will be served with a subpoena and be required to appear before a judge.

Again, to avoid enforcement action, your complete application, supporting materials, and application fee must be submitted to the commission by October 28, 2019. In addition, you must stop operating and advertising as a household goods mover immediately.

If you have questions about the household goods laws, please contact Brian Braun, Compliance Investigator, at (360) 664-1129.

Should you decide to apply for a household goods moving permit, please note that you still may not operate as a household goods mover in Washington state until you have received a permit. To request a permit application, please call (360) 664 1222. You may also download an application from the commission's website at www.utc.wa.gov/mover.
