RESPONSE:

The relevant information used in Mr. Buckley's testimony for purposes of this proceeding can be found in Mr. Kalich's Avista general rate case testimony and exhibits in Docket UE-100467. Relevant pages of that testimony are attached. Chart No. 1 on page 25 of Mr. Kalich's testimony supports the statements made by Mr. Buckley and, in fact, demonstrate that the proposed 8 percent outage rate for Colstrip 4 is conservative when anomalous extended outages are not considered. The data underlying Chart No. 1 is included in Workpapers Avista designated as confidential in that docket, and therefore Staff cannot provide them in this docket.
